

Join Four Friends As They Attempt To Cycle Two Thirds Of Their Way Around The World

In 2016, four friends set out on an epic cycling adventure. Their goal was to cycle two thirds of the way around the world, from London to Sydney. They called themselves the "Pedal Pushers," and they were determined to prove that anything is possible if you set your mind to it.

The Pedal Pushers were made up of four friends from different walks of life. There was James, the engineer; Tom, the teacher; Sarah, the nurse; and Emily, the stay-at-home mom. They had all been friends for years, and they were excited to embark on this adventure together.

The Pedal Pushers set off from London in April 2016. They cycled through Europe, Asia, and Australia, covering a total of over 20,000 miles. Along the way, they faced challenges and obstacles, but they never gave up. They cycled through deserts, mountains, and rainforests. They faced extreme heat and cold. They had to deal with flat tires, broken spokes, and other mechanical problems. But through it all, they kept going.

The Pedal Pushers' journey was not just about cycling. It was also about friendship and adventure. They shared laughter and tears along the way. They learned about different cultures and made new friends. They saw some of the most beautiful places on Earth. And they proved to themselves that anything is possible if you set your mind to it.

The Pedal Pushers' story is an inspiring tale of adventure, friendship, and the power of the human spirit. It is a story that will stay with you long after you finish reading it. If you are looking for a book that will motivate you to dream big and never give up, then this is the book for you.
